

MKMC Hut Meet Friday 10th to Sunday 12th July, 2026 – Beddgelert

Organiser Malcolm D.

Cost £34:00 for the Friday and Saturday, plus optional £2 sustainability donation, max 14 people.
£17 extra for Thursday or Sunday night

This is a modern well-equipped hut Cae Ysgubor in Beddgelert, located centrally in the Snowdonia National Park, custom built for outdoor activities.

Location

Grid reference SH 599485. Postcode LL55 4NE (although not very useful as this covers a large area, except to get you to Beddgelert if you are using a satnav), Google Maps: Cae Ysgubor
W3W: ///reactions.crimson.vineyard

As you approach Beddgelert from Pen y Gwryd (i.e from the direction of Capel Curig) along the A498 turn off left sign-posted the Sygun Copper Mine; this is about 1.5K before Beddgelert. (If you get as far as the Cae Ddu campsite on the left, you have gone too far, so turn round and go back to look for the Sygun copper mine). Follow the narrow road over a bridge, past the mine car park (sharp right bend) to the bunkhouse on the left. This is about 600m from the main road. Park opposite.

Alternatively, some SatNav/google systems might take further the down A55 coast road and then into Beddgelert from the Caernarfon direction. This is OK but in this case you will need to follow the signs out of Beddgelert on the A498 towards Capel Curig and look for the Sygun Mine signposts on the right.

Public Transport

By Train

Direct mainline train services run to nearby towns of Bangor (linking London Euston) and Porthmadog, both with connections via the Snowdon Sherpa bus service. The romantic option is to arrive via the Welsh Highland Steam Train – then walking through the village towards the Copper Mine, crossing the first bridge as you head towards the Copper Mine.

Bus Timetables

The Snowdon Sherpa bus timetables can be found here.

Our modern Welsh bunk house is tailor made for club members and groups. Funded by LMC members, The Welsh Assembly and Sport England – we are fortunate to have a bunk house in the heart of Snowdonia National Park – 10 minutes walk from Beddgelert, Snowdon summit is just a couple of hours walk from the bunk house, and Tremadog is a 20 minute drive...
